GIRO FILTER

The American-designed, Italian-made Filter has a feature visible only upon being pinpointed. A pivoting lever at the temple opens a catch that allows the lens to drop out of its slot, making for easy lens changes. Giro.com

RUDY PROJECT NOYZ

The utility of the adjustable temple and interchangeable lenses of the Noyz is obvious. But the magic is in the lens itself. A special process used on polarized surface makes it possible to clearly read your power meter's LCD screen. Rudyprojectusa.com

GARMIN FORERUNNER 405

GPS-delivered speed, distance, pace and a pace per mile sleek stylish package ... but that's only the half the story. Once training is done, ANT+ technology allows wireless transmission of your workout to your PC for analysis. Garmin.com

TIMEX IRONMAN RACE TRAINER

The Race Trainer ANT+ compatible unit makes the heart rate monitor capable of direct wireless sync with your PC or Mac, transmitting training data directly to a free Timex online training site powered by TrainingPeaks. Timex.com
